Remember our freshmen year when our biggest worries were opening our lockers and getting over that grade school rivalry? After we did, we got to know some of our best friends.

Then remember our sophomore year when we made money on the Christmas and Easter Balls just because everyone told us no other class had?

And recall our junior year — our main concern was the prom and even though it wasn't the greatest prom, it was ours so it wasn't all bad.

When we hit those doors in September 77, we came with pride and assurance, confident anything we did would be great.

Well, some of it was good, some of it wasn't, but we made it!

Will there ever be a class to equal ours in spirit, pride, ability, and the love we have for each other? It seemed no matter how far we had to stick our necks out for a friend, we would, no matter the consequences.

I hope you have enjoyed your four years here, especially your senior year. We have tried to make this yearbook the best because the class of '78 was and maybe always will be the best!

My most grateful thanks to Mr. Vance, who pulled us out of many scrapes, to Grace Jane Wigal, my advisor, for all the help and support, to Davis Studios, for photography, and last but not least, to my section editors, Sandy, Delores, Margaret, Kathy, Robin, Penny, Vicky, Ruth, and Debbie.

I wish you luck in your future.

Love,
Pam
